SHERIFF KAY'S COURAGE

Defended by a Visalia Paper

IN A LEADING EDITORIAL

The Motives of Sensational Correspondents of City Papers Questioned.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

The late visit of Chris Evans and John Santag to Visalia and their escape from Sheriff Kay's posse, is the subject of much sensational writing by reporters. The Chronicle correspondent apparently tried to tell the truth, but the Examiner reporter evidently thinks the campaign is still on, for his reports of the affair are in about the same style as were the first accounts sent to that paper last summer and fall before the election. The charge is made that Sheriff Kay does not really want to catch Evans and Sontag, and that the bandits leaving out of consideration the fact the men who talk the loudest are generally the farther away from danger, which may be in advertance on their part. They can go where they please and do what they like for all the authorities of Tulare county can do to prevent them. The article abounds in its insulting and cowardly insinuations concerning the courage of the sheriff and his posse which the writer of this article would not dare to repeat to any man who tried to capture the desperadoes Wednesday night. There are a few men in Visalia who claim to think it would be an easy matter to capture Evans and Sontag. It may not be out of the way to remark that $10,000 is offered for Evans and Sontag, which will be paid by the Southern Pacific Company and Wells, Fargo & Co., to anybody who will bring the criminals to bay. It would look better if the brave men who stand around the street corners and talk would put some of their dead sure plans into operation. For $10,000 is quite a sum of money to make by so easy a matter, according to their ideas, as would be the capture of Evans and Sontag. Act more and talk less my brave countrymen.

FIRE IN SELMA.

A ROW OF BUSINESS BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

Gallant Work Was Done by the Fire Department—Origin of the Flames Unknown.

From The Republican's Special Correspondent.

SELMA, April 22.—This morning about 3 o'clock fire broke out in one of the saloons on Front street, between First and Second streets.

The alarm was immediately given and the fire department was soon on the ground.

The row of frame buildings burned like tinder and everything between Kutner, Goldstein Co.'s block and the Bertram brick building was destroyed with the exception of Russell's billiard hall, which is badly damaged.

There was a light wind from the northwest and for a time it looked as if the Bertram buildings, the Matthews & McCartney block and the Bank building were doomed.

Large iron guards were drawn across the sidewalks on both sides of the fire which kept the flames from lapping around on the sidewalks and store fronts which was all that saved the buildings just mentioned.

The water supply was very poor at first, but after the firemen got started they did good work.

No one seems to know just how or where the fire originated. Some alleged that it started in Prather's saloon, located in the Commercial hotel, while others say that the first flames issued from Wagatt's confectionery store and Jarrett's saloon adjoining the Commercial hotel.

Nothing was saved from the saloons, Wagatt's store, or the two Chinese restaurants, but the furniture in both barber shops was saved.

Station Agent Heilig telegraphed to Fresno for the railroad fire department. They responded that they were ready to start if needed, to save the railroad property here or could assist in saving other property.

The loss is not so great as might be expected, as all of the buildings burned were old. The total loss to buildings and stocks and furniture might reasonably be estimated at $10,000 to $12,000, while the total insurance on the same ranges from $7500 to $8000.

Mr. Prather, who owned the Commercial hotel, is probably the heaviest loser as he had lately withdrawn some of his insurance that he had been carrying on his property.

All are thankful that the conflagration was no worse than it was, and the building of brick business houses on the burned district is already talked of.

RAISIN SELLING.

A GROWER DISSATISFIED WITH THE ASSOCIATION.

His Proposition to Sell From Fresno and Make No Further Consignments.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—At the meeting of the raisin packers and growers held in Fresno last Saturday the subjoined resolutions were introduced by me, seconded, discussed, and tabled by a vote of four or five affirmative against no negatives, so I was informed by a friend who attended, as after making one or two remarks in their support I immediately withdrew, feeling entirely indifferent about their reception and fate at the hands of so small an assemblage as was then present.

My main object, as I then remarked to a friend privately, had been accomplished, as I supposed, and that was to get them before the public with the least loss of time and the least detriment to my health, the act of writing being to me always more or less physically harmful.

To my surprise I found that the resolutions and the attendant proceedings were entirely suppressed in the probably authorized account of the meeting subsequently published in the Expositor.

Believing that they will furnish much food for thought on subjects of transcendent importance to all interested, whether directly or indirectly in the raisin business, I now request their publication in THE REPUBLICAN.

For the purpose of preventing a possible misconstruction of their meaning I will add that I do not undertake to stem the prevailing current of popular thought in favor of all sorts of combinations and I would cheerfully yield my humble support to any feasible plan of combination to control the prices of raisins, provided it does not involve consignments by the producers.

To such consignments I am uncompromisingly opposed, and will always resist them, to use an oft-quoted phrase, "at all hazards, and to the last extremity." Here are the resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the raisin growers here assembled will in future consign no more unsold raisins, and that the true policy of the grower is, to pack his own raisins or sell them in the sweat box at the place of production.

That to effect such sales it is only necessary to resolve to do so, and to firmly and unalterably adhere to that determination.

That the best way for the grower to regulate the raisin market is for him to let it alone, and the best way for all concerned in their sale, is to use the utmost care and straightforward honesty in the production and preparation of the raisin for consumption. N. M. THRIFTY.

INSOLVENCY PETITION

Sern N. Marsh, a life insurance agent, has filed a petition in the superior court asking that he be declared an insolvent debtor. His liabilities are as follows:

James A. Bell, Santa Barbara, promissory note, $2200; Jacob Harps, San Fernando, same, $100; Mr. Warner, San Fernando, same, $10.

Petitioner has no assets. His exempt property is valued at $100. A. M. Drew is the petitioner's attorney.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Vivian Simmons Entertains Her Young Friends.

Miss Vivian Simmons celebrated her twelfth birthday at her mother's apartments on J street yesterday. Mrs. G. L. Hoxie had everything ready for the young people, and little Vivian showed herself to be an agreeable hostess.

After a sumptuous lunch games were declared in order. Among those present were: Myrtle Scott, Daisy Chisholm, Lillian Edwards, Lula Calhoun, Lila Farmer and Vivian Simmons.

Information Filed.

An information was filed in the superior court yesterday against Charles Robinson, charging him with grand larceny. Robinson is accused of having stolen $87 from his mother. He made a written confession to that effect, but stated he was led to commit the offense at the instigation of a boy named Bob.

LUCKY GUESSERS.

The Republican Premiums Awarded.

NAMES OF THOSE WHO WON THEM

End of the Political Guessing Contest—A Great Success.

Last fall THE REPUBLICAN offered eight premiums aggregating in value $915 to those who succeeded in guessing most accurately the result of the general election. Such liberality was something unprecedented in the history of Fresno journalism and the many readers of THE REPUBLICAN entered the contest with a vim.

Letters containing guesses on the various results came from all directions of the compass and THE REPUBLICAN'S business staff was soon so overworked arranging the guesses that they began to seriously consider the advisability of asking that their already munificent salaries be increased. The election came off, however, before they could screw their courage to the asking point.

The enterprise of THE REPUBLICAN in inaugurating this political guessing contest did not go unrewarded. The paper received very many new subscribers, those who entered the contest were stimulated to a beneficial mental activity, while those who guessed aright—well, they were the happiest of all, for they carried away valuable and useful premiums.

On the 11th of last December four of the premiums were awarded, the following being the successful prophets:

C. K. Renfro won a Victoria Credenda bicycle, valued at $95, having made the most accurate guess on the plurality for presidential electors in the state and foretelling which set of electors would win.

R. N. Barstow received a lady's gold watch valued at $35 for naming the successful candidate for county clerk of Fresno county, and estimating most closely his majority.

W. D. Brown won a $70 White sewing machine, having guessed most accurately the plurality given in this county for Presidential electors.

The fine $50 hunting outfit offered to the person who named the county's next sheriff and came nearest giving his plurality was, strangely enough, won by the successful candidate himself, Jay Scott.

The other four premiums could not be awarded at that time, the national returns not being in, and there being a contest over one of the offices on which there had been guessing, that of county recorder. The contest has been decided and the returns are all in, so THE REPUBLICAN can now make four more men happy—no, three more, for the prize offered to him who guessed the electoral majority was won by no one.

Cleveland's electoral majority was 110, and the person coming nearest in his guess was W. K. Lynch, whose estimate was 112. It's too bad that Mr. Lynch should lose that $125 lot in Sanger just because he was only two behind in his guess, but we must follow the rules. The other estimates for this prize were far below the right one.

The quarter-acre lot in Florence addition was won by T. Remy of Madera. This lot was offered to the person who named the next President of the United States, and who estimated most closely his plurality. Cleveland's plurality was 382,958, and Mr. Remy guessed 380,000, which is quite near. This prize is the most valuable that was offered by THE REPUBLICAN. Florence addition adjoins Fresno on the south. It is well built up, and lots there sell from $250 to $300. Mr. Remy, come get your lot, but please don't take it to Madera.

L. F. Fincher made the next nearest estimate, namely 400,000.

J. Reeder wins the gentleman's gold watch, valued at $35, on naming the next county recorder and making the closest estimate of his plurality. Mr. Reeder's guess was 17, Smith Norris, the Democratic and successful candidate received 18 plurality. C. K. Renfro's guess for this office was the same as Reeder's, but one of the conditions of the contest was that no one should receive more than one premium. As Mr. Renfro won the bicycle, the watch goes to Mr. Reeder. The remaining guessers were very much out of the way.

The special premium of a new hammock cart to be given to the person naming the next United States senator from California and making the closest estimate as to the political complexion of the thirtieth session of the state legislature, was won by Frank Laning. He named Stephen M. White, and his prophesy as to the legislature's political complexion was sixty-two Democrats and fifty-eight Republicans. The next nearest guess, 59 Democrats and 61 Republicans, was made by Joseph L. Smith.

The cart possesses all the advantages of a buggy and has no shaft motion; is durably constructed, safe, handy and elegant. Its value is $80. Mr. Laning got news of his good fortune yesterday and got the cart then and there. He states he is very much pleased with it and naturally considers THE REPUBLICAN'S guessing contest a great success.

The guesses were handled by Dr. A. J. Pedlar and Attorney A. M. Drew, who spent much of their valuable time in ascertaining the winners. They have the cordial thanks of THE REPUBLICAN for their valuable services. As for the premiums, THE REPUBLICAN hopes the winners will enjoy receiving as much as THE REPUBLICAN does in giving them.

Farmers' Institute.

Among those to favor the institute with papers or addresses may be named Prof. E. J. Wickson of the State University; M. W. Wilkins, editor of the National Spectator; Prof. G. D. Hines of Selma, and others. Discussion will follow the reading of each paper.

THE introduction of artificial legs in the skirt dance is an imposition which will be resented by every bald headed man in the country.

RICHARD OLNEY is said to have grown tired already of his position as attorney general. The public is certainly tired of his attempt to act as interstate railroad lawyer and the legal representative of the United States at the same time.

CONNECTICUT pays a bounty of $1 for each mad dog which is killed. California pays $2.50 for the killing of a coyote, which appears to indicate that this state is more liberal in the matter of protecting her hen roosts than Connecticut is in guarding the lives of her citizens.

IT was to be expected of course that the Fresno Expositor would be panged in its vital part by the defeat of the Triangle, but it was hardly to be supposed that its agony would be so deep-seated that it would not be able to recover from the outward evidence of it in the course of a few weeks.

THE REPUBLICAN thinks it is as patriotic as most people, but the wail which has gone up about hauling down the American flag in Hawaii makes it weary. If the special commissioner didn't have any right to take down the flag, where did the other fellow get his authority to "thist" 'er? That is one proposition, and and the other is that this is purely a question of policy and not of sentiment.

IN its news columns on Friday the Fresno Expositor says that a member of the People's Party was unanimously elected clerk of the police headquarters by the city council. In the same issue it says editorially that "the Populists were not in it when it came to dividing the pie. It was strictly a Republican feast." Little discrepancies of this sort are liable to appear in a newspaper, which is unable to recognize the truth even when it meets with it in its own columns.

CHICAGO maintained her mechanical world's fair smile when those British chemists came over there and fished around in their drinking water for polywogs and cholera microbes, but when representatives of the New York aristocracy appeared on the scene for the purpose of investigating the moral atmosphere of the windy city, in order to determine whether the gilded dudes and dames of Gotham can take in the world's fair without danger of contamination, that was a little more than could be borne with equanimity even by the lardy Chicagoan, and one of the journals of that city spoke right up as mad as could be and said: "New York society people who are sending expeditions to Chicago to ascertain whether they can attend the Columbian Exposition without contamination are more different kinds of jackasses than the mind of the average westerner has conceived of. Without a doubt the people who come to Chicago from Tombstone, Ariz., will have more brains, more money and better manners than these flunkeys." This goes to show that while it may be safe enough to say some things about Chicago, that it is going too far when you insinuate that there is trachina in their pork and their morals.

THE most contemptible of the long list of outrages committed by the Fresno Expositor is the attack which it made in last evening's issue on the old fire department. Among other things equally vicious and devoid of truth, it says:

The remedy for partisanship in the fire department is not mere partisanship, but an absence of it. Nor can the city place its safety in the hands of men who strike in a body and refuse to fight fires every time something is done that displeases them. In this connection we will state that if it is not the intention of the present board to make the fire department a compact partisan organization, then their efforts in all other directions belie them.

The citizens and taxpayers of this city will not fail to remember that the organization thus assailed is the volunteer fire department which stood up against the efforts of the Triangle to make the department a political machine by usurping the department's right to select its own officers, and that the Fresno Expositor is the same paper, published under the same management, which then applauded the action of the department in resisting the displacement of men of their selection to make room for political favorites of the Triangle. What the department then and now demands is the right to select its own officers as against the political claims of any board of trustees, whether Democratic or Republican. The statement that the old department went on a strike and refused to fight fires, is a deliberate and harefaced falsehood. Had they done so it is not likely that the Expositor would have applauded their action. The fact is that they stood ready to fight fires until the apparatus was taken from them and the men they had selected to control it, and was turned over to the appointees of the Triangle and a new department which had been organized for the purpose of supplanting them. The old volunteer fire department has stood firmly and heroically by the principle that the fire department shall not be a political machine, and any attempt to discredit their conduct or their motives by the Fresno Expositor will fall flat in a community to which the character, conduct and efficiency of the old department is as familiar as the growth of the city itself.

A CONTRIBUTOR to the New York Press says: "Sir William Long, the proprietor of the Sheffield (England) Telegraph, a portly, clerical looking old gentleman, told me yesterday at the Fifth Avenue hotel that last fall some of the Sheffield manufacturers talked about moving to this country. 'They saw the advantages of protection under the McKinley bill,' he said, 'and were anxious to establish works in America. The defeat of the Republican party changed their minds, and they decided to remain at home. Our manufacturing industries, consisting of cutlery and railway supplies, are greatly depressed.' Sir Long is amazed at the magnitude of New York. This is his first visit to America, and he evidently expected to see a city inferior to Sheffield."

WHEN the subsidized Canadian Pacific steamship line was established even the Democratic secretary of the navy felt constrained to call attention to it in one of his annual reports as "a notable illustration of the generosity and courage with which England pushes her shipping interests." "Under such competition," he added, "it is easy to conjecture what will become of the American flag in the Northern Pacific." What Secretary Whitney foresaw is now an accomplished fact. British and Canadian subsidies have done their work. Foreign lines practically monopolize the trade which should be ours. The part of our transpacific trade which has survived the attacks of the Canadian Pacific is to be assailed by the new line lately established by means of a princely subsidy between Australia and Vancouver. "It is now probable," exultingly remarks the Toronto World, "that Canada will take away from the Americans a big share of the carrying business between North America and Australia, just as the Canadian Pacific steamship line played havoc with the traffic between San Francisco and China and Japan." The Toronto World asserts that these steamships have done more to advertise Canada in Japan and China and other countries than anything else in Canadian history, and it declares that "the best class of visitors from those countries to the World's Fair will come via Vancouver." These are the fruits of our neglect of the country's transportation interests. It is as plain as day that we cannot hope to compete with foreign transportation companies while they are secure in the enjoyment of subsidies which are denied to American companies.

A very delightful event was the party given Friday evening by Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Deardorff to a few of their friends.

THE ENDEAVORERS.

What They Have Thus Far Accomplished.

MUCH GOOD FOR RELIGION.

A Splendid Concert and a Good Sermon in the Barton Opera House.

The Endeavorers got up early yesterday morning, so early that some of them were obliged to gulp down their hot coffee and masticate their broiled chicken in a great hurry in order to be in time for their devotional exercises in the Adventist church, 6.30 a.m. being fixed as the hour. About 200 Endeavorers attended and much fervor was manifested.

The Adventist church was found to be much too small to accommodate the great crowd and it was decided to hold the remainder of the session in the Barton opera house. The convention was thereupon called to order at that place at 9.15 yesterday morning.

The session began with social services conducted by Rev. Mr. Duncan of San Francisco, after which the convention proper was called to order by the state president, William G. Alexander. He introduced Professor Justep, president of the Baptist union, who put his best foot forward in a brief address of greeting to the Baptist young people.

Miss Maybelle N. McKay of Roseville read an interesting paper entitled "Neglected Corners," showing the good that can be accomplished by the Endeavorers if every opportunity on every corner offered for doing good was utilized.

There followed a general discussion of fifteen minutes, which was participated in by several members of the convention.

Rev. E. R. Dille conducted the question box and it yielded many valuable and useful suggestions.

"Practical Work With Our Bibles" was the subject of a discourse by Rev. E. D. McCreary of Santa Cruz. It conveyed many important points to his hearers.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Officers were then elected as follows: E. B. Hays of Los Angeles, president; Dr. E. E. Kelley of San Francisco, first vice president; J. R. Martin, second vice president, and C. P. Dutton of San Luis Obispo, third vice president; John Jessup of Sacramento, treasurer.

The denominational secretaries: Presbyterian, Miss Frame s Murray of San Luis Obispo; Methodist, Dr. Stratton of Oakland; Baptist, O. A. Lane of Oakland; M. E. Church South, Miss Mary Lacy of Santa Ana; Congregational, F. W. Reed of San Jose; Friends, Miss Maud Adams of Whittier; Lutheran, Rev. V. A. Trester of San Jose; Cumberland Presbyterian, R. H. Lial of Hanford; Christian, A. R. McCullough of Elmira.

RIVERSIDE GETS THE CONVENTION.

The selection of the site for next year's state convention was next considered. San Jose, which had been making a vigorous fight, suddenly withdrew and Riverside was unanimously selected.

William G. Alexander of San Jose, state president for the past year, and Rev. J. H. Collins, pastor of the Congregational church of this city, were chosen as delegates to the international convention in Montreal in July. It was also decided that all Christian Endeavorers from California who should visit Montreal at that time should be declared delegates to the international convention.

It was announced that 100 singers would be required on the stage in the evening to assist the orchestra in the music.

After the noon adjournment the delegates took their positions on the steps of the opera house and in the street where they were photographed en masse without money and without price.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The junior conference was held in the afternoon. Miss Hessie L. Doyle, the president, announced that she conducted the conference in place of Miss Nason. She read from Mark 10th, 13, 14. This was followed by prayer.

A paper entitled "Our Aim and Organization," was read by Miss Catherine Curry. She said that a truly ideal society will be inaugurated when all its members are graduates from the junior society. The senior should give the junior all the help and attention that is usually given to those young in years.

If you have a junior society give it more of your prayers. If you have not one do not rest content until you have. The organization of juniors means better churches and better people.

Just as the discussion was getting interesting Miss Daisy Williams of Fresno led in a large delegation of juniors singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

"Suggestions for Meetings," was the subject of a paper prepared by Mary A. Long of San Diego. She said: Old people are apt to get restless if they have to wait for a meeting to begin, and we cannot expect more of our children than we do of ourselves. Therefore we should begin on time, also close on time, or close when the interest fails. Better have fifteen minutes well taken up in good singing, earnest prayer and testimonies than an hour with long pauses. Word hunts are good; have children find all the passages there are containing a certain word."

If you have a junior president who is competent to lead the business meeting it is best to have him lead.

A HANDY JUNIOR.

"There's a new junior in town. He is a boy, and weighs ten pounds." Brother Campbell was the happy father, and they answered his telegram with the following selection from Isaiah: "The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the calf and the young lion and the fatling altogether, and a little child shall lead them."

Yesterday Frank Valpey Campbell, the aforementioned kid, was introduced to the convention. He is a year old, and weighs more. He declined to make a speech.

E. C. Smith gave a harmonica solo.

Miss William G. Aler said of the juniors and their work that they were under the direction of the seniors. Nothing is more advisable than for them to carry flowers and fruit to the sick or to give toys or trinkets to the poor.

Do not neglect the social side. Make the juniors happy. Have socials and good ones, even entertainments or picnics.

Have them sign a temperance pledge and carefully teach them to conduct their own business. In every way possible the senior should help the junior.

E. S. Williams told of a little girl who was given ten cents, and who bought eggs with the money and rented a hen. The result is that the little girl earned $1.50, which she devoted to missionary work.

The Free Parliament, in which the subject was debated, "Is there anything I wish to know about junior work?" was instructive and interesting. The questions came so fast and were so many that it was impossible to close meeting until three quarters of an hour after the appointed time. There is very great interest manifested in the work of the juniors.

"After the froth and foam are blown off this convention, it is wonderful to observe the good sense and real working determination exhibited by these young people," remarked a minister yesterday. "They are after some high and determined work to be accomplished. Underneath their lively spirits they have a noble, solid purpose."

A RIDE THROUGH THE VINEYARDS.

When the delegates left the building at the close of the afternoon's service, they were surprised to find the street crowded with carriages, buggies and other vehicles waiting to take them on a visit to the vineyards and orchards of the outlying colonies.

About 150 delegates availed themselves of the privilege, and spent a few hours very pleasantly in the vineyards where the sweet rich wine lieth in wait for him that shall devour it. But no fair lip of Christian Endeavoress kissed the golden ransom or the ruby port or the amber sherry, but with the kisses of the Fresno sun, and more seductive to the unwary than was the soldier's wife to David the King. And the red-nosed makers of the new sweet wine that stingeth like a rattlesnake and that knocketh out in the fourth round, were downcast because the fair daughters of the Lord passed them by with noses tip-tilted in disdain.

And the young men who bear the Cross in sweet remembrance of the good Lord who hath done so much out of love for mankind, tarried not by the wine cask, for they knew that the sweetness which hy there was unto the Christian soul as fatal as Rough on Rats to the body of the obstrusive and sweet toothed rodent.

So that, verily, all those that went forth came back sober, and walked straight in the way that they should go towards the home of their entertainer, who made a broiled offering of young and tender chickens with golden legs to the gods of hospitality.

THE CONCERT.

The interior of the Barton opera house presented an appearance last night sufficient to have shot a pang through the heart of Manager Horack. Not a pang of unmitigated pain, but one of alloyed pleasure in dwelling upon the theory that such a crowd might attend the next two or three performances to be given in that elegant and comfortable place of amusement.

It was a crowd beyond a doubt. The dress circle and parquet seats and boxes were reserved for delegates while those who were not endeavoring to be the active working Christians that they should be allowed the freedom of the family circle and the gallery, vulgarly termed the hen roost.

They took the liberty and filled not only every seat up stairs, but blocked up the aisles until Rev. Mr. Collins announced that the chief of the fire department had requested that the aisles be cleared in accordance with a city ordinance upon that subject.

Several hundred people went away after they had looked into the theater, and had seen that there was no room for either man or beast, not to mention even remotely his man servant or his maid servant.

A BRILLIANT SCENE.

What a scene of bright colors and pretty faces it was! The air fluttered with fans and handkerchiefs and ribbons on hats and bonnets that resembled the conspicuous ears of the Shelbyville jackrabbit. For even Christian Endeavoresses who have forsworn the world, the flesh and the devil, still have loves (of both ways of spelling), and would be tempted almost to commit a mortal sin rather than not be in the grand fashion.

Wherefore, brethren, is it not a glorious and a blessed thing to realize that religion is fashionable once more?

There walked upon the stage thirty-five men and women, all of them passing fair to see with violins, viols, horns, clarionets, cornets, trombones, triangles, (of Unblessed Memory) piccolos and the other instruments that make up an orchestra, and soon there rose upon the heated heavy air the twanging of the A string to bring the orchestra to its musical focus.

It is a long time since such good orchestration has been heard in Fresno, Alexander T. Steward, the leader, waved his baton shortly after 7 o'clock for the musical prelude.

Then followed the overture "Raymond," by Ambroise Thomas. The covenant dance by Herman, "The Mill in the Forest" (by request) and Gottschalk's "The Dying Pet."

Cesar Beretta gave a trombone solo, George Koppitz "Resignation," with orchestral accompaniment.

Charles C. Cushing's cornet solo, "The Last Chord," was a good effort, although there were no triple tonguing effects. Perhaps the plaintive melody sounded all the better for that.

"The Mill in the Forest" was the concerted selection that drew down the house from gallery to parquet. It was rapturously encored, and will be repeated on Monday night.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

The committee on resolutions presented the following report which was unanimously adopted:

Your committee on resolutions beg leave to submit the following report:

Whereas, The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor emphasizes above all other considerations loyalty to Christ and His church, and by its marvelous record and unsurpassed success has demonstrated its peculiar adaptibility to all denominations with danger to none, therefore be it

Resolved, That we pledge our united efforts to preserve and perpetuate its name and principles in our respective churches and denominations to the end that we may all be one in Christ.

Resolved, That in view of the assembling of the international convention at Montreal from the 6th to the 9th of July we recommend that Sunday July 2nd be observed throughout the state as a season of earnest supplication that God may endow its leaders with that wisdom that is profitable to direct and that His holy spirit may guide all the deliberations of that great gathering and may prove an inspiration to more aggressive work for Christ and the church.

Resolved, That we use our united efforts and urge our delegates to present our claims and do all in their power to secure the international convention for 1895.

Resolved, That we condemn intemperance in every form and believe that the Christian Endeavor is a power in the hands of God to crush out this greatest enemy to all that is good and pure; that we rejoice in the victories being won for temperance and look forward to the day when our fair land shall be freed from the tyranny of this monster of iniquity and the escutcheon of our Christian civilization be no longer marred by the unholy contamination of the liquor traffic.

Resolved, That it being the will of God that Christ be preached to all nations we should do all in our power to encourage missions; that we should work and pray and pay for them.

Resolved, That we rejoice in the work of the Sunday schools of our state and that we recommend our Sunday school committees to organize classes for systematic Bible study.

Resolved, That we recognize in the Golden Rule a paper which no member of the Christian Endeavor should be without and that while we do not discourage denominational organs we urge upon the Endeavorers throughout the state the importance of keeping in touch with the Christian Endeavorers of the world, as they can only do through such a paper as the Golden Rule.

Resolved, That we hereby express our thanks to Brothers Collins, Hammond, Barnard, Turner and Martin, together with their active colaborers, who have done so much in their special lines towards making this convention a success.

Resolved, We express our appreciation and tender our thanks to the Fresno Transfer Company for their kind and attentive services.

Resolved, That we hereby express our heartfelt gratitude to our officers, one and all, and the Committee of '95 for their earnest, consecrated efforts in our behalf during the past year.

Resolved, That we extend our sincere thanks to the railroads for favors granted to the People of Fresno for their generous hospitality, and to the press of this city for their full and excellent reports made of our sessions.

Whereas, We recognize in the Junior Society of Christian Endeavor a mighty power for good, and fully realizing the importance of winning the boys and girls for Christ, be it

Resolved, That we extend our sympathy and active co-operation in this grand work.

Resolved, That the thanks of this convention be extended to Miss Hart of San Francisco for favoring us with several beautiful vocal solos, all of which added to the inspiration of the meetings.

Resolved, That we hereby tender our thanks to the pastors and churches of Fresno for the loyal support they have given this convention, and that we do not fail to appreciate their efforts.

Resolved, That we declare the pledge inseparable to a true Christian Endeavor Society; that it should be constantly in the minds of the members and that we should ever strive to live up to its high requirements, and

Whereas, The Epworth Leagues and Baptists unions throughout the land are banded together for the same purpose for which we work, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we recognize and appreciate their efforts in a common cause and extend to them the right hand of fellowship in their Christian endeavor to do good.

Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the orchestra for the pleasure they have afforded us and beg to assure them of our deep appreciation of their kindness.

D. P. Anderson, J. E. Gardener, Miss Della Lockhardt, Committee.

The following was subsequently introduced and adopted:

Resolved, That we instruct our delegates to the international C. E. convention at Montreal to recommend to the trustees of the united societies the name of William G. Alexander for state vice president.

After the adoption of the foregoing resolutions Miss Susie Hert sang "If I were a voice, a persuasive voice, I would fly on the wings of the morning" so charmingly that her hearers prayed that her wings would be clipped to prevent her from flying from Fresno. She is wanted here as a part of the resident population.

THE SURPRISE.

Then came "The Surprise" announced on the program. Many were the guesses as to what the surprise would consist of. Some skeptics ventured the opinion that the omission of the collection would be the surprise. But it was otherwise, for subscriptions were called for, and more than the required amount was pledged.

Rev. J. H. Collins informed the convention that the new executive committee needed $1500 to carry on the good work, and in less than 20 minutes $1600 were subscribed.

A GOOD SERMON.

Rev. A. C. Smither of Los Angeles delivered an excellent sermon on "The Drift of the Endeavor Movement."

He said in substance: A society that can do the work that this society has done all over the broad earth in the last twelve years is a marvel before God and man.

Anything that can interest young men and young women in Christian work is God-send, and should challenge our love and admiration.

I honor the Endeavor movement because it honors Christ. I honor this Endeavor because it honors the church.

Its love for and adherence to the Bible as the word of God commands the respect and admiration of everyone, and is a society of tremendous influence. I believe the tendency and the Divine intention of this movement is to Christian unity.

This association he illustrated by picturing several denominational missions struggling for existence in a small town. The C. E. movement is doing more to bring about this unity than any other organization, because the C. E. is giving the basic principles upon which we can unite. The first basic principle upon which Christians can unite is work. The second is the Lord Jesus Christ. When waged to working around a common center we forget our division. Another basis is the Bible. We promise to read the Bible: we believe in its inspiration.

The evening closed with prayer by Rev. E. S. Williams.

The following is a list of clergymen attending the convention.

A SYMPATHETIC JURY

The trial of Adam Bollinger, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, was concluded in Judge Holmes' court yesterday. John Pacheco's sheep invaded Bollinger's land and did considerable damage. Bollinger emphasized his displeasure by striking Pacheco on the head with his shotgun.

The jury found Bollinger guilty of a simple assault, and the court fined him $25. This is a good deal of money to Bollinger, who, though industrious, is poor. The jury took into consideration the fact Bollinger had acted under great provocation and generously contributed $13 toward the payment of the fine. Bollinger was much affected.

OAKLAND ORCHESTRA.

Additional Soloists Secured for the Concerts.

Another attraction has been added to the list of soloists at the Orchestral concert, Monday evening, in the person of Miss Daisy H. Smith, a popular whistling soloist of Los Angeles.

The other soloists are Miss Susie Hert, the favorite vocalist, who will sing a number with violin obligato; Mr. R. E. Yarndley, cellist, and Mr. William Wallace, violinist. The accompanists will be Mrs. S. Castellanos and Miss Armstrong.

A CARD PARTY

A very enjoyable party was given last Thursday evening by Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Sponogle in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Buell of San Francisco, cousins of the Doctor.

There were present Justice and Mrs. W. D. Crichton, Colonel and Mrs. S. S. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. John Austin, Miss Maud Riggs and Miss Ryan.

The evening was pleasantly passed in progressive whist, music and conversation. A delicious collation was served later in the evening.

Many rise in the morning with a headache and no inclination for breakfast. This is due to torpidity of the liver and a deranged condition of the stomach. To restore healthy action to these organs, nothing is so efficacious as an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills. *

To the Public.

We guarantee satisfaction. All kinds of drugs and patent medicines sold cheaper at wholesale and retail than at any other place in the valley. 1725 Mariposa street, sign of the blue mortar.*

A Convenience That is Appreciated.

The ladies of Fresno in purchasing dry goods have long since satisfied themselves that the best place to secure the finest goods and latest styles is the White Front Stores. That this establishment has but one price, which is charged alike to the most experienced buyer and the youngest child, and that this place is the lowest in the state.

A great convenience, which is thoroughly appreciated, is the delivery system of the White Front Stores. Goods purchased are promptly delivered free of charge to any part of the city or additions. The White Front Stores have given Fresno all the advantages possessed by a first-class New York or European department store. *

Over Twenty Thousand Carloads.

Our reporter was strolling along I street yesterday morning and noticed a large amount of "Anheuser" and "Budweiser" Export beer on the sidewalk ready to be shipped by R. Ruben & Son to various towns throughout the valley.

Mr. Paul Ruben informed the reporter that they are meeting with good success with this famous beer and have already ordered the second carload.

The Anheuser Busch Brewing Association have the contract to supply the World's Fair with their beer and it is acknowledged by drinkers of this beverage to be the finest in the market, it being made of imported hops and malt only.

Dr. A. J. Melchionian has purchased the Fresno Steam Dye Works of E. D. Simmons & Co. and is prepared to do the best work in dyeing and cleaning. See advertisement on first page. *

Only 10 Cents Per Day.

No doubt a great many of our readers are aware that the Los Angeles Times has made arrangements with the publishers to place the great Encyclopedia Brittanica within the reach of all at publishers prices and at such terms (only 10 cents per day) that even the poorest can afford. This magnificent library is identical with the original edition that cost $8 per volume, word for word, page for page, and is very much improved by new maps costing $30,000 alone and supplements added in the back of each book, bringing the work up to the present time. It even gives a full account of the World's Fair with illustrations.

The Los Angeles Times has placed a set of these books on exhibition at Riege's book and stationery store, where all can examine it, or by sending name and address to Los Angeles Times Encyclopedia Brittanica Department, or Riege's store, Fresno, a volume will be sent you for examination. This is an opportunity of a lifetime and should be taken advantage of at once, as its many advantages will not permit it to be before the public long. *

WEARY OF LIFE.

NEIL SORENSEN CUTS HIS THROAT.

He is Believed to Have Been Demented at the Time.

Neil Sorensen committed suicide yesterday morning at his home in West Park colony. He had left the house early in the forenoon and was absent all day, not appearing at dinner.

Toward the afternoon his wife became alarmed and inquired for him at the neighbors. Returning home she had occasion to go into the barn, and discovered her husband lying in the hay. Believing he was ill she called in a neighbor, who saw at the first glance that the man was dead. Dr. Pollar was sent for, but of course could do nothing.

An investigation showed that Sorensen had cut his throat. The gash extended from near his right ear to the Adam's apple, and was very deep. Near him was found a large and very sharp pocket knife. Sorensen was found about 5.15 o'clock and from appearance must have committed the deed between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning.

It is not positively known what prompted him to kill himself. He was fairly prosperous and had no family trouble. His brother, Hans Sorensen, who lives in Washington colony, says that when a boy Neil fell from a church receiving an injury on the head, and since that time has been subject to moods, during which he became irrational and acted strangely. It is likely, therefore, that he was not in his right mind when he made the attempt upon his life.

Sorensen was about 37 years old and came to California about fourteen years ago. For nine years he was Governor Perkins' coachman. He has been in Fresno about five years. He was married last October to a Danish girl, for whom he had sent. Sorensen was also a native of Denmark.

Coroner Stephens was notified and brought the body to this city. The inquest will take place on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock at Stephens & Bean's undertaking establishment.

It would be worth while for the ladies to bear in mind that if they take a gentle course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the spring, they will have no trouble with "prickly heat," "blives," "sties," "boils" or "black heads," when summer comes. Prevention is better than cure. *

TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION

WILL PUSH THE STOCKTON, FRESNO AND BAKERSFIELD.

The San Francisco Chronicle of Friday says:

There is probably no one of the enterprises which the Traffic Association of California have under way, with a view of relieving the state of its thraldom that is of more importance to the people at large and those of the San Joaquin valley in particular, than the new road from Stockton to Bakersfield. Barry Baldwin was appointed chairman of a committee of seven, to be selected by him, to put the scheme in motion.

Mr. Baldwin states that he has not yet completed his committee, but will do so in a day or two. "Then we will go right ahead," he remarked. "Of course an enterprise of this character cannot be carried to a conclusion in a day, like the buying of a horse, but it will be vigorously pushed. The stock will be put on the market and as soon as we get the money the road will be built. When, say, 25 per cent of the stock has been subscribed it will be very easy to raise the money needed to complete the construction of the road."

Mr. Leeds of the Traffic Association was in a very agreeable frame of mind yesterday. The affairs of the Southern Pacific Company appeared to be getting into a sufficiently critical condition, as far as freight rates are concerned, to please him and he was correspondingly happy.

"The circus will soon begin," he said, with an exultant laugh. "The reduced tariff on west bound freight will go into effect at New York on the 25th and the war will be on here just as soon as they get the freight out of the St. Paul."

Mr. Leeds has also been busy assisting Mr. Baldwin in securing men to serve on the committee to build the San Joaquin Valley road. "We want men who will stay with it and work," he explained.

The proposed road will parallel the Southern Pacific, but at what distance is a question yet to be determined. It will tap all the towns through which the present line passes. It is a work of such importance to the San Joaquin valley that the people of that fertile district look forward to its completion in the light of the arrival of a Messiah to lead them out of all their troubles. It will enable them to place their products upon the market at a profit rather than a loss and to receive the commodities which they consume at reasonable rather than at ruinous rates of freight.

This proposed road from Stockton to Bakersfield is regarded be many as simply a part of a plan for the construction of a transcontinental line. Several capitalists have secured the right of way of the California & Nevada Railroad, with a terminus on the Berkeley bay shore. It is proposed to extend this road to Walnut Creek, Contra Costa county, tunneling through the mountains. From there it will be extended to Stockton, connecting with the San Joaquin Valley road. The road terminating at Bakersfield will eventually be extended across the Rockies. As soon as the San Francisco and Nevada people get through to Stockton the San Joaquin valley farmers will be given an opportunity to get their grain to tide water at cheaper rates.

"THE PRODIGAL FATHER"

At the Barton Opera House, Friday, April 28th.

Carmencita, the greatest of dancers, will be seen at the Barton opera house on Friday night, April 28th. The Spanish beauty has come to California after having enthralled New York swelldom for three years and her reception has been everywhere of the most enthusiastic. Her appearance with the New York comedy success, "The Prodigal Father," is doubly interesting since the dancer and comedy have gained world famed reputation.

OLIVER BYRON'S NEW PLAY.

"Ups and Downs of Life," which is, practically speaking, only in its infancy, possesses considerable merit, being full of originality, attractive and romantic situations and beautiful scenery. It ranks among the best of our modern dramas and will be given by Mr. Byron at his coming engagement at the Barton opera house next Wednesday, April 26th. The author has shown himself to be a student of nature, with a capital knowledge of the foibles and virtues of humanity. All the characters are modeled from life, and in the plot there is sacrifice of possibility, as there is in most conventional dramas, to secure effect. The effect is there, but it emanates from situations which are based upon reality and not artificiality. This feature enhances the production considerably.

THE NABOBS.

Henshaw and Ten Broeck and their delightful company will be greeted here next Tuesday at the Barton opera house presenting the musical comedy "The Nabobs." John E. Henshaw's name is identified with all that is comical and finished in farcical stage work. He has a fine voice which he uses well both in singing and dialogue, and in addition is the possessor of a magnificent presence and personal magnetism that is rare in comedy performers. May Ten Broeck, as Clara Jolly, is an able assistant in producing the mirth in this excellent entertainment, and possesses an excellent voice, and is grace in every movement. The play is one of the very best of that class of plays that is made for laughing purposes, and is presented in the sumptuous and artistic setting of a gem. It is universally accorded the palm as being the best dressed musical extravaganza before the public and everything is done with the delicacy and neatness of legitimate comedy work. Jokes without farcical broadness, bright repartee that is clean and pointed, miscellaneous humor, good dancing and music and songs combine in a performance that suggests that more of the same work would be highly acceptable.

A stimulant is often needed to nourish and strengthen the roots and to keep the hair a natural color. Hall's Hair Renewer is the best tonic for the hair.*

All Lovers of Music

Should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear the finest orchestra west of the Rocky Mountains, which will be at the opera house on Monday evening. It consists of fifty-six pieces and will be assisted by eminent soloists. Seats now on sale at Bangle & Hansen's, at the popular prices of 25 cents, 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.

THE FRESNO CANAL.

It Will Enable the People to Defy Monopoly.

A meeting of citizens has been called in Fresno to effect a permanent organization with the intention of forming a company with a capital stock of $500,000 to construct a navigable canal from Firebaughs to Fresno, a distance of forty miles, says the San Francisco Chronicle. The proposition is to construct a series of canals to the San Joaquin, giving water communication to Fresno, Hanford, Tulare, Merced and Bakersfield.

Estimates have been made, showing that the business of such a series of canals for the first year would nearly, if not quite pay for the cost of construction. Persons in this city interested in shipping have expressed the opinion that if the scheme were managed on a liberal principle in the interest of the public it would pay a handsome interest on the investment, and we may add, as a sort of corollary that unless it be managed on such a basis it had better not be undertaken at all.

The great San Joaquin valley is an ideal location for the construction of a main canal with lateral branches. In fact the main canal is already constructed in the San Joaquin river, which can be deepened and enlarged at a comparatively small expense so as to be navigable for nearly the entire year. With the river canal as the main artery it must be easy and not very expensive to construct lateral canals, so as to insure water communication with the greater part of the magnificent valley.

It is established beyond any doubt that in the movement of staples from the field to the market nothing can compete with water carriage. Railroads play a useful and indispensable part in the great work of transportation, but when it comes to carrying wheat and barley and wine and such products to tide water, the canal can outdo them all the time.

If the property owners in the San Joaquin valley are well advised they will take hold of this movement in earnest, for no scheme yet mooted would be so conducive to their prosperity as this. With such a canal system in operation they could bid defiance to railroad pools and syndicates, for no combination of railroads can rival a canal conducted and managed properly.

A Man With Views on Silver.

There is one newspaper man in this town who is personally interested in the silver views of Secretary of the Treasury Foster. It happened in this way: The newspaper men was detailed to attend the banquet of the Republican club at Delmonico's recently. Secretary Foster was there as one of the distinguished guests. Like many men of public fame, in donning his dress suit Mr. Foster had forgotten to put anything in his pockets.

After making his speech he hustled to the coatroom and passed in his check for his coat and hat. He was annoyed to find that he had no change with which to reward the servants. Turning to the aforesaid newspaper man, he exclaimed: "By George! Charlie, I haven't got a cent. Lend me a quarter." The bit of silver was no sooner placed in his hand than one of the prominent bankers of Wall street called out, "Hero, Charlie, lend me a quarter also." Charlie was pleasantly impressed by the fact that men of money are not always men with money.—New York Times.

THE FORESTERS.

Why Their Picnic Will be Given on Sunday.

Court Yosemite 8128 of the Ancient Order of Foresters of America was instituted January 23, 1893, with a charter membership of 33. Being less than a year old they have a membership of about 100 members in good financial standing. The benefits of the order is as much if not more than any other secret order. As the public knows the Foresters have arranged for a grand picnic at the Fresno Fair Grounds on Sunday, April 30, 1893. People may say, and some have said, why do the Foresters have a picnic on Sunday? Why not have it on a week day? The idea is this: The Foresters' Lodge consists mostly of clerks and men who cannot get away from their places of business on a week day, and being the only day the members as well as the merchants could go and take their families they decided to give the picnic on Sunday. We wish to have the public understand that this picnic will be a very nice affair in every way. They have arranged a very nice program for the afternoon. Such as four championship amateur bicycle races, open to Fresno county. Solid gold medals will be offered to the winner of the above races. Ladies' races, fat men's races, and also many other events which will be interesting to the public to see. We would like to see everybody come and spend a pleasant afternoon. We will guarantee you a very pleasant time.

Evans and Sontag.

It seems as if the above named parties bear charmed lives. Sheriffs' posses and Arizona trailers have failed to secure them and now we hear that they have again escaped the clutches of the law after having visited Visalia. This last escapade in Visalia reminds us of their visit to Campi's restaurant about two weeks ago, when they entered the well known resort and stood up Ben the renowned chef, whose well known ability as a culinary artist doubtless attracted them.

Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast and still more potent are the charms of good cooking when good digestion waits upon appetite.

Now that all fair means have been tried in vain to capture these outlaws, let us try fowl means strategy, my boy. Send in a flag of truce and tell 'em we'll give 'em the freedom of the city for a week and they'll make a bee line for Campi's restaurant, where they will be found so full of the good things set before them that there will be no risk in taking them prisoners.

There men must be taken and this is the way to do 'em up. Call off your dogs of war, mind is greater than matter, the pen greater than the sword and good cooking greater than either, and that is to be had at Campi's restaurant, in the basement under Fiske building, corner of J and Mariposa streets. *

Sale of a Good Horse.

Professor E. P. Heald of San Francisco has sold his black stallion, Locher 13,683, to C. H. Robinson of Fresno, Cal. This horse is one of the handsomest stallions in the state, and was named for that genial and popular horseman of St. Helena, Mr. F. W. Locher. This horse was raised at Napa, and is very popular in that valley. He was the premier stallion of the Napa stock farm for several years, and left there some very fine colts. His get are uniformly of good size, solid color and speedy. They make the finest roadsters in the world, and are ideal gentlemen's driving horses—handsome, spirited and fast. His first foal, now four years old, is owned by E. T. Sterling, manager of the Schuenhelt Medicine Company of San Jose. She is generally admitted to be the handsomest mare in Santa Clara county, and is noted throughout that section for her beauty and great roading qualities. At the Napa Stock farm there are now many of his produce equally promising.

Locher is exceptionally well bred, being by that noted horse, Whippleton 1883, out of a mare by Irvington 379, son of Hambletonian 10. Not only is his dam standard-bred and registered, but also his grandam. Whippleton was noted for not only producing fine carriage animals, but also good race horses. California has produced few finer campaigners than Lilly Stanley, 2.17½, and the prospect is now that she has never produced a better brood mare, either. The Whippleton family is very popular in Napa valley, and it is greatly to be regretted that the best son of the old horse is to be taken away from that section. Fresno, however, is to be congratulated on the addition to its breeding ranks. Locher has five direct crosses to Hambletonian 10, and cannot fail to produce speed. He will, from his good size and fine finish, produce an extra class of carriage animals when bred to large roomy mares. We hope the stockmen of Fresno county will understand the value of this horse and breed to him. When a crop of his colts shall have arrived to speak for him we are certain he will be appreciated in that section. We expect to hear good accounts of him in the future, and congratulate Mr. Robinson on his purchase.—Breeder and Sportsman, April 15.

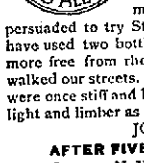
40 YEARS OF PAIN CURED. THE CASE.



N. ALBANY ST., ITHACA, N. Y., Dec. 19, 1881.

For over 40 years I have been a victim of rheumatism. I was persuaded to try St. Jacobs Oil. I have used two bottles, and a man more free from rheumatism never walked our streets. My limbs that were once stiff and lame are now as light and limber as in my youth.

JOS. EDSELL.

AFTER FIVE YEARS.

ITHACA, N. Y., July 5, 1887.

Suffered many years—injury to hip resulting in rheumatism, muscular weakness and contracted cords. Two bottles of St. Jacobs Oil relieved me so that I now walk about and attend to daily duties at 62. I heartily endorse it.

He Came Just in Time

To the People of This Malarial Stricken District.

"EVERY DISEASE OF AGE WE MAY PREVENT, LIKE THOSE OF YOUTH BY BEING DILIGENT."

Take Heed of That Dreadful Tribunal When it Will Not Be Enough to Say That I Thought This or I Heard That.

Philosophy has accumulated precept upon precept warning you against future calamities.

The people residing in the San Joaquin valley know too well what they have suffered from the ravages of MALARIA last year, consequently they ought to anticipate the monster's coming the present season.

The wonderful discovery of Dr. E. F. Brown, the specialist, his treatment, inoculation by absorption, the antidote immediately arrests the progress of the malarial poison, followed then by a 21 day's course of treatment, the system is thoroughly cleansed from every trace of the disease and rendered proof against further attacks.

Investigate personally. Full and complete information will be furnished you at THE RADICAL CURE DISPENSARY, 1745 Mariposa street, Fresno. Consultation free for all.

The Specialist, Dr. E. F. Brown, will arrive at his Fresno office on Saturday, May 6th, remaining only one week.

He comes for your especial benefit. He is both competent and candid, and should be consulted regarding your long standing chronic ills.

His reputation as a skillful physician and surgeon requires no further proof than that of those among you who have already been healed and are grateful.

Dr. Laura A. Harris, the business associate of Dr. Brown, now in charge of the Radical Cure Dispensary, is fast acquiring for herself a reputation that comes only to those of true worth.

The ladies and children suffering from MALARIA or Chronic ailments should consult her at once.

Those who contemplate seeing the Specialist should not delay, but present themselves early, for his time is both valuable and precious; and remember that Dr. Brown will not undertake your case if, in his estimation, it is incurable.

A cheap rate will be given to all presenting themselves on the day of his arrival—Saturday, May 6th.

Cancers eradicated by painless methods.

Tumors and growths removed.

The fat person reduced.

The lean person made fleshy.
